Template Support

Support was added to AllFusion PM so that an AllFusion PM model can now be saved as a template. You can use a model template as a basis for creating new models. Models can be saved as templates locally or to AllFusion Model Manager.

Bi-directional Arrows Support in IDEF3 Diagrams

An option was added to the Preferences dialog so that you can choose to use bi-directional arrows in IDEF3 diagrams.

Model Property Inheritance for Split Models

When you split a model, the new model that is created as part of this process now inherits the model properties from the original model. Previously, when a new model was created from the split model process, its properties would be based on values from the Properties for New Models dialog.

Go To Activity Dialog Enhancement

The Go To Activity dialog was enhanced so that only used activities appear in the list. This includes activities that are only used in FEO diagrams.

If an activity is used in both a FEO diagram and a standard diagram, the destination in the Go To Activity dialog will be the standard diagram. If an activity is used in multiple FEO diagrams only (no standard diagrams), the destination will be the activity encountered in the first FEO diagram.

Activity Box Color Preservation

The color of cut and pasted undecomposed Activity Boxes is now preserved.

Model Consistency Report Options

The following new options were added to the Model Consistency Report:

- Report Activities Without Mechanism Arrows
- Report Activities Without Input Arrows
- Report Objects with Neither Inputs nor Outputs
- Report Objects with Identical Inputs and Outputs

Junction Number Modification Ability

You can now modify junction numbers using the Name tab in the Junction Properties dialog.

Report Template Builder HTML Output File Management

When you run an HTML report in the Report Template Builder, all existing HTML files in the output directory are deleted prior to regenerating them. Previously, HTML files from prior runs of the report were left behind but not connected to any report.

Bitmap Dictionary Enhancements

Improvements were made to the Bitmap Dictionary editor that makes it easier to update bitmaps.
